Before you start

This guide is educational and meant to help you better organize your routine — it doesn't replace professional guidance.

Read before using

This material does not replace an assessment from a dietitian, doctor, psychologist, or fitness professional. If you have pain, dizziness, a history of injury, an eating disorder, intense anxiety, a chronic condition, are pregnant, or take medication, seek professional guidance before starting.

- The goal isn't perfection — it's adherence: doing enough, repeatedly, for 30 days.
- If you miss a day, don't turn it into a lost week — get back on track at the next mission.
- If you have any health or safety question, the decision should be professional.

The weekly scoring system

Each pillar is worth 1 point per day completed. The goal is to observe your pattern, not chase a perfect number.

Pillar	How to score	Weekly goal
Training/movement	1 point per completed session or short version	4 to 6 points
Nutrition	1 point per day with 3 aligned choices	5 to 7 points
Water	1 point per day with good hydration	5 to 7 points
Sleep	1 point per night with a minimum routine	4 to 7 points
Mindset	1 point per conscious pause or journal entry	4 to 7 points

★ The 80% rule

If you complete 80% of the week's missions, you've already built a pattern of action far superior to improvising. Real consistency is born when you learn to keep going without needing a perfect scenario.

Week 1 · Base — complete and ready to use

Check off each completed mission — small daily actions build the habit.

- ☐ Day 1 — Prep the environment: groceries, workout clothes, bottle, and schedule.
- ☐ Day 2 — Do your first workout without chasing perfect performance.
- ☐ Day 3 — Create a standard breakfast to repeat on busy days.
- ☐ Day 4 — Take a mindful walk and notice your energy/mood.
- ☐ Day 5 — Train strength with a focus on technique and breathing.
- ☐ Day 6 — Plan a social meal without turning it into giving up.
- ☐ Day 7 — Review the week and adjust what felt hard.

• Goal of the week

Build rhythm, prep the environment, and get past the start — the other 3 weeks (consistency, evolution, and autonomy) are in the full guide.

The 10-minute anti-impulse protocol

Use this when the urge to eat out of anxiety, boredom, or stress hits.

- 1. Stop — step away from the food for a few minutes. Don't decide at the peak of the impulse.
- 2. Breathe — take 10 slow breaths. Exhale longer than you inhale.
- 3. Name it — am I hungry, anxious, tired, bored, or frustrated?
- 4. Hydrate — drink water and let your body slow down.
- 5. Choose — if it's physical hunger, eat. If it's emotion, take an alternative action and reassess afterward.

Ready for the full challenge?

That was just Week 1. The full 30-Day Challenge guide gives you: all 4 weeks with daily missions, complete A/B/C workouts, flexible menus by goal, the anxiety/sleep/habits module, a weekly planner, a final review, and a 90-day continuity plan.

To be transparent: results depend on your routine and consistency. That's why the focus is method and organization, not a promise.
